slow up, and I have just told you how successful they were in getting away with my toach.

"After the robbers were out of sight we looked for the person who was shot at by one of the robbers, but could not find him. We got the train under headway as soon as possible, but we had not gone far when one of the parties discovered a man in the sleeper in a dying condition. He was covered with blood from head to foot. He could not talk, and there was nothing on his person to indicate his name. He is the man who was shot by one of the robbers. He made no outery or noise of any kind when shot, but simply crawled to the sleeper and pulled himself up the steps. He managed to get inside the door, when he fell and was found by the porter. His face and neck were full of buckshot and he was dying when we left Tulare, when we turned him over to the authorities.

"The robbers made no attempt to rob the passengers and as all the passengers were asleep when the robbers stood us up, no one knew anything about the trouble until it was all over. The train hands and conductor did not know what was going on, or, if they did, they kept out of the way.

"The people in Tulare think the robbers belong to the old Pixley gang and that they live in the neighborhood of Visalia."

The Southern Pacific people and Wells, Fargo & Co. are doing all in their power to the Southern Pacific's detective force of this city, went up on the 1:40 train yesterday, and Henry Russell wont up last night, and By Telegraph to The Times. TULARE, Jan. 21.—|By the Associated Press.] The south-bound passenger train was stopped this morning by two masked men, seven miles north of Tulare. The robbers climbed over the baggage car to the accompany them some distance from the train. A tramp stealing a ride was mistaken for a train man and the robbers shot him in the head. He was brought here and may recover. There is no trace of the robbers yet.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—A dispatch from Tulare to the Southern Pacific Company gives the following account of the train robbery this morning: When the train left Goshen at 4 o'clock this morning two men jumped on the front end of the seal lear, without helps noticed by the train mail car without being noticed by the train hands. As soon as the train was well started they climbed over the tender and jumped into the cab, instantly presented revolvers to the heads of the engineer and fireman. After the train had run about two and a half miles in this way they or dered it stopped. They then compelled the two train men to dismount from the engine and march toward the rear of the train, covering them with their revolvers and shotguns. In pursuance of orders thus enforced the engineer-and fireman opened the black masks.

As soon as the news was received at Tu-lare, all hands along the road were notified, and a number of men started out in pursuit on horseback. Special Officer Bachelder also started at once with another party. It fused to state the amount of money taken by the robbers. It is learned from other sources that the amount will run up to between $3000 and $4000. In answer to questions as to how the robbery was committed, Mr. Minnehan said:

"A few minutes after leaving Goshen, the junction of the Southern Pacific and a narrow-gauge line that runs down to Visalia, I noticed that the train was slowing up. I knew that we had not reached Tulare, the next station, but thought nothing of the matter until I heard a gruff voice at the door of my car, which was boiled from the inside, say:

"Throw up your hands," he said, in a commanding voice, and I obeyed. The engineer and freman were standing near the door, and one of the robbers stood over them, with a shotgun. The man who had covered me then ordered me out of the car, and after satisfying himself that I was not armed he climbed into the car and ordered me to follow. His pal still stood guard over the engineer and freman.

"Now," said the robber who was with me, 'open that treasure box and dump all the money into this sack,' producing a wheat sack with one hand while he covered me with his shotgun,

"I opened the box and then put what money packages there were in the safe into the sack, and after satisfying himself that I had not overlooked any valuables, the robber ordered me sut of the car, and as I landed on the ground he followed.

"Just at that moment I heard some one walking on the gravel on the opposite side of the car. The robber who guarded me heard the step at the same time, and quicker than a flash he stooped down and said:

"What thes he I are you doing there, you ———" and fired his shotgun under the car.

"I heard some one fall, but could not see

A Nephew of Judge Terry is Killed.

His Death the Result of a Sanguinary Feud in Texas.

Slain by the Brother of a Man Whom He Had Shot Down.

Other Eastern Dispatches-A Bad Man Killed in New Mexico-Free Fight at a Puglistic

By Telegraph to The Times.
GALVESTON (Tex.), Jan. 21.- By the GALVESTON (Tex.), Jan. 21.—By the Associated Press. J A terrible tragedy was enacted at the courthouse here today in which Kyle Terry, a nephew of the late Judge David S. Terry, was instantly killed and two men were badly wounded. The killing was the outcome of troubles which resulted some time ago in a bloody battle between citizens of Richmond.

Some months ago Terry, who was Tax Assessor in Fort Bend county and a member of what is known as the "Woodpecker" party, had a difficulty with the three Gibson boys, all members of the "Jaybird" party.

boys, all memoers or the "Jayottu" party. Five weeks later Terry met one of the Gib-son brothers in Wharton and killed him. When the case came up for trial Terry got a change of venue to Galveston county, Judge Parker, indicted for murder in Fort Judge Parker, indicated for murder in Fort Bend county, also secured a change of venue to this county, and the cases were set down for today, and the witnesses for both prosecution and defense brought to this city a large number of adherents of the "Jaybird" and "Woodpecker" factions.

About 10 a.m. Kyle Terry, his brother, Capt. David Terry of California, Judge Parker, Judge Weston, Dr. Gale and some others entered the front door of the courthouse. Terry turned to the left toward the stairway and had just reached the second step when a shot was fired. It struck him under the right arm and came out of the left breast and literally tore his hear's to nieces.

him under the right arm and came out of the left breast and literally tore his heart to pieces.

There was a moment's lull, and then four of five shots were fired from different directions. One passed through the arm of Judge Weston of Fort Bend county, and another went through the leg of Henry Little, a Galvestonian. Eye-witnesses say three men did the shooting, naming them as Vol Gibson, who killed Terry, and whose brother Terry had killed Terry, and whose brother Terry had killed Terry, and whose brother Terry had killed in Wharton; Dan Ragsdale and young Mitchell, all from Fort Bend county, and all "Jaybirds."

Immediately after the shooting six arrests were made, the principal one being Vol Gibson, who fired the first and only fatal shot. He is a young man about 28 years old, and treats the matter coolly. Gibson was the oldest man in the attacking party, four of the others being under 31 years of age. It was evident that the intention was to kill Weston and Parker as well as Terry.

Judge Parker is a member of the State Legislature from Fort Bend county, and is charged with having been the cause of the late riot in Richmond. He trial for murder comes up tomorrow. He is charged with killing a negre woman during the Richmond riot.

A BLOODY FARCE A Pugilistic Encounter Ends in a

Free Fight.

Denver (Colo.), Jan. 21.—[By the Associated Press.] Four hundred sports took a special train at noon today and went outside of Arapahoe county to witness a fight between Ed Smith of Denver and Kessler of Montana. The mill was more an exhibi-tion of blood than of science. The men were well matched, but either were afraid of each other or did not want to fight, and of each other or did not want to ugh, and from the beginning to the end the referee was kept busy pulling the men apart in his endeavor to keep them from breaking the rules. In doing so, he was besmeared with blood and had alls clothes nearly torn off him.

The fighters slashed at each other regard-less of all rules until each was covered with blood.

At the beginning of the seventh round the friends of the principals began to quarrel, the ropes were broken down and the fight became general, everybody hammering right and left, regardless of who struck.

W. B. Masterson, who was present seeing that serious trouble would result if something was not done prouptly, jumped into the ring and hurried Kessier into a car, where he locked him up. He then treated Smith likewise, and the affair broke up in a miserable farce.

A BAD MAN SHOT.

Desperate Struggle Between Officers and an Outlaw.

DENVER (Col.), Jan. 21.—[By the Associated Press.] A Santa Fé (N.M.) special to the Republican says: On Saturday officers learned that Jeff Hunt, a dangerous character, wanted on several charges, had returned to Seven Rivers and Denuty Sherreturned to Seven Rivers and Deputy Sheriffs Perry and John Berkely were sent down to arrest him. They found the man at Pierce's store on Sunday and attempted to effect his arrest.

Perry threw his gun down on Hunt and told Berkely to search him. Before it could be done Hunt drew a revolver, knocked Perry's aside and fired. The ball grazed the officer's face and knocked him to the floor, stunned. In the general shooting which followed Hunt was fatally shot through the chest. Berkely was shot between the eyes, and strange as it may seem the wound has not proved fatal. The doctors probed the wound four inches, but could not find the ball, and the wounded man is doing well, with chances of recovery.

A young man named Tom, arrested for fring a shot, was taken to Rosewell and lodged in jail. He was one of the party which terrorized Eddy on Christmas day. Hunt has been passing for a bad man for a long time, and was one of the gang who delighted in shooting up the town of Seven Rivers every once in a while.

Indians Dying of "La Grippe.". Winnipeg, Jan. 21.—A band of 800 In-WINNIPEG, Jan. 21.—A band of 800 Indians on the St. Peter reservation, a few miles out of Winnipeg, is being wiped out. The Indians are afflicted with la grippe in its most severe form, and being without proper medical attendance they quickly succumb to the malady, which in many cases developed into lung disease. Seventy-five per cent. of them are down with the epidemic, and if speedy action is not taken by the authorities in the way of sending physicians few will survive.

Burned by Natural Gas.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 21.—By an explosion of natural gas from the main at Sewickly, Pa., last night Mrs. George Globs was fatally burned, and her daughter seriously injured. The ladies were carrying a lantern to light them home and the gas, which was escaping from a break in the main, ignited.

Chinamen Going East. PITTSBURGH, Jan. 21.—Twenty-five Chinamen en route from California to work here were in the city today. It is the intention to put them to work as laborers in the place of Italians and Irishmen. Fifty others are now on their way from San Francisco.

THE UNION LEAGUE MEETS

sponsibility of the entire community rested on his small-sized shoulders. After the smoke of battle of the last county election cleared away Mr. Cook was rewarded with a deputyship in the Tax Collector's office. After this appointment he put on more style than ever, but he still retained his office in the Union League, and the members seemed to think that they could not get along without him. Things went along in this way some months when it was suddenly discovered that the league tree sury was not as full of silver as it should be. A halt was called and the books of the institution were overhauled by an expert bookkeeper. It was soon discovered that Mr. Cook could not account for about $121 of the league's finances. He was called before the Board of Directors or some other prominent committee and questioned closely by the able statesmen. It was evident that they did not care to see one of their shluing lights disgraced, but Mr. Cook had spent the money in high living, and he could not refund the mouey to save his neck. The committee talked big about making up a purse for the wrong-doer, but no one seemed anxious to go down in his pocket, and after considerable talk it was decided that the affair must be hushed up, and Mr. Cook expelled in a quiet kind of way. Several of the members were in favor of prosecuting him, but as he is almost an invalid they changed their minds, and passed resolutions, or something of that kind. A new secretary was chosen, and Mr. Cook was fired out of the Tax Collector's office.

Several of Cook's friends were seen yesterder and they dealered that the states.

Mr. Cook was fired out of the Tax Collector's office.
Several of Cook's friends were seen yesterday, and they declared that the matter has been straightened up to the satisfaction of all parties concerned. Mr. Cook was in San Francisco when it was discovered that he was short in his accounts, and as soon as he returned he set out to square things. He gave the president three notes of haud, covering the shortage, and turned over his watch and other jewelry as security, and the president assumed all responsibility.

District Attorney Kelly was seen regarding the matter yesterday, and said he had heard about it, but no complaint has been made, and he will not prosecute the case unless the members of the league request it. Mr. Kelly had understood that Cook was short in the Tax Collector's office. The Tax Collector was found in his office later in the day, buslif engaged in preparing the delinquent tax list.

"Yes," said he, in answer to a question, engaged in preparing the delinquent tax list.

"Yes," said he, in answer to a question, "I discharged Mr. Cook as soon as I heard these ugly stories about him, but he did not get away with a cent of money while in my employ. I have always found him to be straightforward, but he went off to San Francisco without saying a word to me and stayed two weeks. In the interim I heard this talk, and when he came back and went to his desk I simply said, "Tom, the game is up," and he left. No, he had nothing to do with the handling of money in this office. I am sorry for him, but I could not afford to keep him in my employ."

Cook is still in the city.

ANTI-PIERSON.

A Mass Meeting of Colored Men Protest.

A mass meeting of colored citizens was held in Judge Owens's courtroom, at the old City Hall, last night, for the purpose of get-ting an expression of sentiment upon the recent appointment by the Oakland conven-tion of Tom Pierson of this city as a dele-gate to the national convention soon to neet in Washington City. meet in Washington City.

There was a largely-developed idea in the minds of those who participated in the meeting that they do not like Mr. Pierson's political methods, and a number of rockribbed speeches were made, in which he was handled without-gloves, as a man who has sold out the colored people on three or four different occasions for Democratic money.

noney. Henry Ballinger, a venerable-looking col-red man, was made chairman of the meet-ng and E. S. Wells secretary. The question was put before the meeting in the shape of a resolution offered by J. C.

Finally the resolution was adopted by a rising vote, in which there were 24 in favor of its passage and four against it.
The adoption was greeted with vociferous applanse, and three cheers were given for the eglored Republicans of Los Angeles.
Mr. Ballinger then addressed the meeting in a short but ringing Republican speech, during the course of which he brought forth shouts of laughter and approvat by his scoring of that class of young colored men who affect to believe that the Damocrats are their friends.

who affect to believe that the Democrats are their friends.

He said that it is not in the nature of things for them to be so, and that he for one is willing to live in the Republican party and be buried in it; that whatever advancement in their condition the colored people will have will come from the Republican party, and he for one does not believe in holding up the hands of a man whom it is admitted has sold his people out to their enemies.

After a few more short speeches the meeting adjourned, the majority feeling highly elated over, as they claim, having shown the people of Los Angeles that they propose to teach the tricky men a few lessons.

Bethune, they having been calling on a friend. Their design was to board a cable car coming north, and they stood in between the two tracks. A car going south came along at that time, but Mr. Spurgeon thought there was plenty of time to jump on his car before the other one passed. The gripman, however, was of a different opinion, and motioned to Mr. Spurgeon to go along a little further before he attempted to get on, and he would stop the car. Mr. Spurgeon concluded to jump on the car, notwithstanding the motion, and took a step backwards to get a good ready for springing on his car. But he stepped too far back, and at that instant the car going south struck him, throwing him to the ground and inflicting the injuries mentioned.

JOHN C. DAY.

He Works Another Fake or Two and Goes.

John C. Day, the orange-peddler who caused something of a sensation a week or two ago by running away with a 15-year-old girl to San Bernardino, from which place he was brought back to Los Angeles by De-tective Bosqui, has again turned up in a disreputable character. Day was tried on two charges, petty larceny and obtaining money under false pretonses, on both of which he was acquitted on some legal tech-nicality and was discharged from custody, resuming his old business of peddling. He hired a team belonging to a young man named Charley Voss, who lives on West Seventh street, and engaged Voss's services as driver, paying him from day to day. Yesterday Voss came to the police station to enter complaint against Day, who, he said, had swindled him, and, he believed, had skipped out. Voss's story is to the effect that on Monday Day purchased several cases of bad eggs from the commission firm of Burdick & Lyon, at the same time buying one case of good ones. Voss said that the commission men knew that the eggs were spoiled, and sold them to Day for $2 per case, he telling them that he wanted them for some purpose of his own. Day then took the cases to his place where he opened them and replacing the top layer of bad eggs with good ones, he sold the whole lot as fresh henfruit, realizing a very handsome profit by the swindle. Voss said that the transaction caused a quarrel between them, and he told Day that he would not hand him around if he did such tricks, as it would hurt his reputation, as he intended to go into business for himself. They made this up, however, and Day promising to act squarely in the father and Monday night he landed enter complaint against Day, who, he said, ness for himself. They made this up, however, and Day promising to act squarely in the future, and Monday night he loaned him $18 to buy some potatoes, since which time he has not seen him.

Voss said he believed that Day had gone to San Francisco, and from what he had heard him say he thought he would try and get the girl to join him there. The police have notified the authorities at San Francisco to be on the lookout for the slick fakir on his arrival there.

"HUNG UP." Several Candid Opinions About Mr, offer for Green's predicament.

A prominent young lawyer, who owns several hundred thousand dollars' worth of property in this city, said: "I like the looks of the postoffice fight just now. Mr. Green made a fool of himself, and since they have hung him up in Washington, I am satisfied his name will never be presented."

A Democratic lawyer of standing said:

A Democratic lawyer of standing said:
"Mr. Green has been served just as he might have expected when he made that affidavit."

J. Marion Brocks said: "Col. Oils has been vindicated, and I am glad of it. I don't know what the outcome will be, but I think Mr. Green had better join the Humane Society."

Gapt. George C. Knox: "I think Vice-President Morton's action in this matter has broken the slate, and I do not think there will be any appointments in Los Angeles for some time to come. Green lied in a most bungling style in that affidavit, and he is now reaping his reward. The Government cannot afford to put such men in office, and I am convinced that Mr. Green's chances are up Sait Creek."

A prominent politician said: "I think Green acted in a most outrageous manner when he brought that affidavit out, and I am glad that Vice-President Morton has skown his hand in the matter. "We cannot afford to place such men as Green in responsible offices."

Frank Oakley said: "If Green hadn't made that affidavit he would have got the

PARALYSIS. . J. H. McCarthy Suddenly Stricken

Down. J. H. McCarthy was seized with a stroke of apoplexy while sitting in a chair at his real-estate office on West First yesterday morning about 11 o'clock. He first noticed a feeling of numbness in his right arm, and rapidly grew worse. Those in the office observed the sudden attack and went to his assistance. He was caught before he fell from the chair, and Dr. Cochran was summoned. By the time he reached the office. in a few minutes, Mr. McCarthy was speech-less and his right side was partially paralyzed, the lower limbs not being so badly lyzed, the lower limbs not being so badly affected as the arm. Everything possible was done for the unconscious man, and he was removed to his home on Philadelphia street, and Dr. Maynard, the family physician, was summoned. Mr. McCarthy's condition yesterday afternoon was dangerous, and while the stroke is not regarded as an unusually severe one, still the gravest fears were entertained for his recovery.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

A Queer "Grace" by Elizabeth Cady

Stanton. In spite of threatening rain-clouds with-out and la grippe within, the Suffrage Soclety convened as usual yesterday. Probably it was due to the beneficent law of compensation that the reminiscences, both written and spoken, were of an unusually cheerful character. These clustered about those two large, aggressive personalities, Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Susan B. Anthony. Their great labors for woman and humanity were but touched upon; it was their strong, never-falling friendship that their strong, never-failing friendship that was dweit on. Each, it appears, not only supplemented but augmented the other. A letter of Miss Anthony's was read; also a 'grace' said at table by Miss Stanton and jotted down by an ardent admirer. As the form of it is quite unusual, it is again jotted down: "Heavenly Father and Mother, make us thankful for all the blessings of life; and make us ever mindful of the patient hands that of times in wearlness spread our tables and prepare our daily food. For humanity's sake. Amen." M. I. T.

IN THE COURTS.

COUNSELOR BROOKS CATE-CHISES THE GRAND JURY.

Another Act in a Judicial Travesty -No Individual Prejudice Shown on the Part of the Jurors -Instincts Browne's "Art" Curbed.

The farcical nature of the objections raised against the Carl Browne indicthimself and his counsel developed in Judge Cheney's court yesterday afternoon, when the grand jurors were lugged into court to answer such questions as J. Marion Brooks and C. N. Bledsoe could propound. The affidavit and motion for setting aside the indictment charging Carl Browne with the extortion of $100 from Willie Childs were based upon minute allegations against nearly every member of the Grand Jury. These allega-tions charge them with prejudice ber of the Grand Jury. These allegations chargo them with prejudice against the defendant, the utterance of sentiments against him contrary to their oaths, and technical defects in the indictment itself. The affidayit of the defendant charged all these matters directly and circumstantially, without any beating about the bush, but, as if the reversible-landscape artist from Calistogs had a mass of flawless evidence all ready to fire into and demoralize the Grand Jury beyond repair. J. Marion Brooks, Esq. was not as pyrotechnically inclined as usual, but interjected enough circus business to prevent ennui from settling down upon those present like a wet blanket.

Carle Browne, who is nothing if not picturesque, in addition his long blonde wig, had it surmounted by a sky blue skullcap, and made pictures of the witnesses on the stand until stopped by the Court, although that was an unnecessary precaution, because no one would ever be able to recognize any of the portraits.

As soon as Judge Cheney took his seat Mr. Brooks requested that all the grand jurors be excluded from the pour troom except the ene being examined.

urtroom except the ene being exam-

Judge Cheney remarked that he saw Judge Cheney remarked that he saw no necessity for any such order, and declined to make it, to which Mr. Brooks excepted.

The clerk called the roll of grand jurors, and nearly all the members answered to their names. Mr. Brooks objected to proceeding unless all were present, but the Court directed him to preceed with his motion.

objected to proceeding unless all were present, but the Court directed him to proceed with his motion.

The first grand juror called was Capt. George C. Knox, secretary of the body. The defendant said of him in his sflidavit that he was prejudiced against him to such an extent that it was manifestly unfair that he should have had a hand in the indictment returned against him; particularly, also, as the defendant had accused Mr. Knox of being a crooked Police Commissioner, and of suffering from the disease known as the "big-head."

"What is your name, Captain?" asked Mr. Brooks impressively.

"My name is George C. Knox, and I am a civil engineer."

"Do you hold any official position, sir?"

"I'am a Police Commissioner of Los Angeles, and have been since last March."
"Have you the records of the Grand

"Have you the records of the Grand Jury?"
"Yes, sir."
"Produce them," sternly.
The Court: You are not entitled to the minutes of the Grand Jury; they are simply memorands.

Mr. Brooks: Will you produce the minutes in regard to the Carl Browne indictment? We want to show that the necessary number of grand jurors were not present, and the witnesses were not properly indorsed on the indictment.

were not properly indorsed on the indictment.

The question was objected to and the objection sustained.

Mr. Brooks: Did you take any part in the examination of the Carl Browne

Mr. Brooks: Did you take any part in the examination of the Carl Browne matter?

"I was not present all the time; when I was absent I took no part, when I was present I took part. I was not present when the vote on the Browne indictment was taken."

This answer seemed to strike the counsel all of a heap, and they held a hurried consultation, one of their allegations being that Mr. Knox was one of the bitterest prejudiced people in the finding of the Browne indictment, while by his answer it appeared that he did not vote on the Browne indictment at all. But counsel still kept on with an incomprehensible examination of the witness.

Mr. Browne: Did you not testify a moment ago that you could give testimony about this indictment?

"I told you I was not present at the time the indictment was found. I have told you repeatedly."

time the indictment was found. I have told you repeatedly."
"What time were you there?"
"I was present when a subpcena was issued for some witnesses. I remember being present when a witness was pres-ent being examined one day; but I merely came in and got excused for the day."

merely came in and got excused for the day."

"What witness was that?"

"Mr. Schmidt."

"Did you hear his testimony?"

"I don't remember that he was testifying. He was in the room. I don't remember the names of any jurors there. I have a roll-call that will show the names of those present at any date.

there. I have a roll-call that will show the names of those present at any date you may name."

"Are you acquainted with Carl Browne?"

"I have had no acquaintance with him. I don't know the man at all, and don't want to know such people."

Mr. Brooks: We now challenge the juror for natural bias.

The Court: There is no such thing as a challenge at this time.

Mr. Brooks: But he certainly shows that oath."

Foreman W. C. Furrrey was next called and testified that he has lived in the State since 1885, and been engaged in the hardware business.

The Court: Wait a minute. Mr. Browne, you will please not make sketches of the witnesses while they are on the stand. It embarrasses them.

Mr. Brooks: I wish to save an exception to the remarks of the Court.

The Court: Certainly. The Court will not allow any defendant to embarrass the witnesses. After asking it privately the Court will ask it openly, if his request is not heeded.

Mr. Brooks: Who was the first witness examined in this case, Mr. Furrey?

"Willie Childs. The examination is the day for the calling of his civil called and the c did not exceed a week, I think. We waited a long time for Carl Browne to come. We sent him money to come with, but he did not come."

"Who was the next witness?"
"Mr. Schmidt or Mr. Coleman. Mr. Coleman is a director of the California Club."

"A man in high life?"
"I am not passing upon his life."
"Who was the next witness?"
"Either O. W. Childs or H. H.

Boyce."
"Did Mr. Marsh testify in that case?"

"I don't recollect that he did."

"Have you any minutes showing what witnesses were examined?"

"I would not show them to you if we had."

The Court: I will not compel the Grand Jury to produce any minutes, which are simply memoranda.

Mr. Brooks: Were you there all the time during this examination?

"I'was. Stephen M. White testified on an afternoon; I don't remember the day. He was examined in this case."

"Did H. G. Otis testify?"

"I am not positive about that. I know that he was a witness before the Grand Jury; but whether in this case or not I am not positive, although I think he was."

"Don't you know that he did not testify in this case?"

"I am not positive about that."

"Have you any memory of the slightest evidence by H. G. Otis?"

"I know he was sworn to answer questions."

"You have been a very active member of the Grand Jury, have you not, Major?"

"I hope so. I never saw Carl Browne until day before yesterday to know him. I have not had any business relations with him. I was present when the indictment was found."

J. M. Hale testified that he has lived about fifteen years in the State and six years in Les Angeles, and Mr. Brooks plumped some questions at him about certain allegations in the affidavit.

Mr. Brooks: Are you a member of the firm of Rodman & Co. or Fitzgerald & Co.?

Mr. Hale: No, sir.

"Have you any business relations with Rodman or Rickabaugh?"

"No, sir."

"Were you member of a clock game running in this city?"

"No, sir, and never was."

The suit against City Tax Collector Thompson et al., by Phillips et al., was on trial again before Judge Wade yesterday, and the defense began the introduction of testimony. Several members of the Board of Equalization were examined, and they contradicted the testimony given by property-owners.

President Frankenfield and others restified that there was always a quorum when any business was transacted by the Board of Equalization, and that the property-owners were granted a hearing in every case, the property being acted upon singly. They stated that thee property on Spring and Main streets was not raised by the board as alleged, because it was the easiest district to make up the amount needed, but be cause the property raised was lower in proportion to its assessment than other property, and the board considered the raise a just one.

CEMENT SIDEWALKS. The Matter to Be Thoroughly Ventilated. The fight between the Street Superin-tendent's office and the Union Construction Company over the refusal of Col. Morford to accept some curbing on Fourth street on the ground that the work was not done ac-the ground that his work was a surface cording to the specifications, is likely to result in a thorough ventilation of the whole subject of cement sidewalk contracts, the result of which will be that the people will be benefited by getting a better class of work, although the first cost will be careful about taking contracts on which they are bound to lose money if the work is done according to the official specifications adopted by the Council. As indicated by the Council of the construction company claiming that the rejection of its work by the Street Superintendent is a personal matter, while that official declares that he has no feeling in the case, and is simply doing what he considers to be his duty in the premises.

Col. Morford was seen in his office at the City Hall, yesterday afternoon, by a Thires reporter, and in answer to the question as to whether there had been any new developments in the matter, replied that there had, but he was not ready at this time to say just what they were. He laughed at the idea of his having any personal feeling against the Union Construction Company, beyond the fact that he knew from experience that they would not do good work, as he had had trouble about every contract they had taken. The Colonel said that he had been making some figures on cemont sidewalks, and found that the actual cost of labor and materials at-present rates to lay 75 feet of sidewalk is $10, or to be more exact, 12 2-15 cents per square foot. His estimates were made on a basis of $2 per day for finishers, the work to be done according to the official specifications. Contractors were putting in bide at from $9\', cents to 10\', cents per foot, so that any one could see that something is wrong. He says that he contributed $85 to the purse, and that the fight came off at the racetrack Sunday morning, when, after three rounds, Brown was delared the winner on an alleged foul. Carter claims that the whole thing was a put-up job to get his money. He was told that the police could do nothing for him, as he had really laid himself liable to arrest for having engaged in a prize-fight. Carter left the station saying that the matter has not been ended yet.

THE experiences of the young women for which they respectively work, by catching steamships and trains ahead of each other, occupy a large space in the news columns of the papers just now. A Louisville newspaper recently twitted Kansas City on the danger of water famine. The Kansas City Star retorts:

It is a merry jest—a trifle old, but good. The idea of a water famine in Louisville is an exhaustion of the bathroom supply. No-body there ever thinks of water in any other

That is a trifle feeble, yet not bad. It is not shown in rebuttal, however, that Missouri Democrats even think of water in bathroom packages.

A CHICAGO Democratic paper re cently announced solemnly and with a shocked and injured air, that "Benjamin Harrison now stands before the country in the light of a law-breaker.' Suspecting that the President was about to be charged with forgery, horse-stealing, or making away with his mother-in-law, we read on, and found the grave allegation that during a recent hunt in Virginia the President killed a number of ducks in disregard of the game law of the Old minion. The arraignment closes with these portentous words:

The penalty is a fine and confiscation of his gun. Will the Governor of Virginia do his duty?

WRITING on the question of beetsugar manufacture the San Francisco Bulletin has the following:

Bulletin has the following:

In California the two beet-sugar mills, one near Watsonville the other at Alvarado, either have, or will, contract for sugar-beets during the coming season up to the extent of the capacity of these mills to convert the produce into sugar. But why should there not be ten or even twenty beet-sugar manufactories in California? If the two are successful, why not multiply them, for the market for sugar is immense? Pioneer-work_of this kind has been retarded for many reasons. In the first place, it requires a large capital to establish a sugar mill. After the crude sugar is made it must be refined for the market. Farmers must be stimulated by the offers of seed and cash payment for the product as soon as it is delivered at the mills, and long before the manufacturer can turn it into refined sugar and get his money back. The producer must have the market within a reasonable distance. He cannot send his crop a hundred miles or more to market. Beets will not bear long transportation like wheat and other cereals. One condition of success is that the sugar manufacturer shall be near the producer.

SILVER SCORES ANOTHER POINT

The latest interesting news on the silver question is a report from Lon-don, this morning, that the Bank of England is about to exercise its right never hitherto asserted, to use silver to the extent of one-third of its reserve, and issue $1 notes in silver against it. It is also said that the bank has purchased $3,000,000 silver bullion, in expectation of this action.

The silver men-which really mean a very great majority of the people of the United States, although some of them may not, at present, understand their own interests—have gained this much, that their demands are no longer slighted or treated with contempt. It may be, as some friends of silver claim, that Secretary Windom's plan is merely a subterfuge, to post pone the day of actual work monetary reform: but at any rate it is concession which admits that some thing must be done—that the de-mands of the friends of silver can no longer be trifled with. This measure will be only the entering wedge.

The bill which is to carry out Secre tary Windom's proposition, in its final form, is said to differ in some particulars from the original recommendation in the annual report. It is proposed that Treasury certificates shall be offered against deposits of silver bullion; that these certificates shall be issued in amounts equal to the value of the bullion on the day on which it is de-posited; that these certificates shall be redeemable in one of three ways, namely, first, in gold, provided, however, that the Treasury shall reserve the right to decline payment of those second, in bar silver; third, in silver dollars. A part of this general scheme is to abandon the present compulsory coinage of silver dollars, of from $2,000, 000 to $4,000,000 monthly. This last clause is the worst feature about the bill. Only American silver dollars will be accepted on deposit, or such bullion as has been made in this country, from imported ore.

MORE ABOUT THE DECLARATION OF WAR.

The great newspaper war continues to be one of the leading topics of conversation among citizens.

As is usual upon all great questions of the day, there is considerable variety in the character of the opinions expressed by the public on the subject. Some affect to feel offended that the newspaper press should have attained to so much importance as to be able to influence the course of a great political party. It is safe to say, however, that more than average amount of sympathy is felt for the Times (of Albany) in this fight.

The facts of the case are-as some of our readers are doubtless awarethat the four Albany journals, the Argus, Times, Journal and Express have been for many years leading fac tors in the political affairs of Nev York State, and, consequently, of the country. The Argus discovered Cleve land and the Times retired Tilden The Argue has always had the State printing when a Democratic administration has been in power, and now that, by the Governor's orders, the State patronage has been taken from it and delivered to the Times, it kicks over the traces and declares open war upon David B. Hill, for all time to come.

This is why the great newspaper wa is at present exciting so much interest among our citizens, and why we, for the second time, stop the press, as it were, to give the latest authentic, though alarming rumors, on the sub-been investigating the feasibility of irrigating the arid region of the United States through a committee which rode through the country in a palace car, and while great irrigation schemes in the Northwest have been projected on paper, numerous corporations have been formed in New Mexico, millions of acres of land have been secured, and work is now actually progressing on irrigating canals which, when completed, will irrigate not less than 3,000,000 acres of the richest land in the Territory. Negotiations are now pending which, if consummated, will result in the irrigation of several milion acres of land, which comprise some of the best and most extensive land grants in New Mexico which have been confirmed, and to which perfect

A New Mexico correspondent of the Globe-Democrat asserts that if Conwould settle the land titles in New Mexico, it would be of much greater benefit to the people there than the opinion of the Senate committee on the practicability of irrigating the arid region. The land grants of New Mexico are practically just where they were 20 years ago. A few are confirmed, but many are unconfirmed, and while they are in this condition of uncertainty regarding title, no extensive improvements will be

Efforts to Reach a Decision as to Its Location

Washington, Jan. 21.—[By the Associated Press.] The special committee on World's Fair had a meeting this morning. Mr. Springer called up the resolution viding that the House proceed next Thurs-day to select a site for the fair by ballot, and it was discussed for an hour. t was discussed for an hour.

Mr. Springer urged the importance of speedy action on the proposition. He held that by its action on the Canhon resolution last week the House had virtually decided that the matter must be settied as early as possible, and that the committee was practically under instructions, and was as much bound by them as if they had been formulated. He argued that the House could not move in the matter until it had first settled where the fair is to be held.

Mr. Frank of Missouri offered a resolution that the Springer resolution, "providing for balloting by the House next Thursday," be referred to a sub-committee of three, with instructions to report at the next committee meeting. After much debate this was adopted, and the sub-committee was selected as follows: Chairman, Chandler, and Messrs. Hitt and Flower.

PACIFIC COAST INTERESTS.

California Protest-The Fruitbrandy Bill. Washington, Jan. 21.—[By the Associated Press.] Representative Morrow was today to speak upon the long and short-haul clause of the interstate commerce law. Mr. Morrow presented the report drawn up at a conference of business men of San Francisco last August, in which they recite the obstacles interposed by section 4 of the inbstacles interposed by section 4 of the in-obstacles interposed by section 4 of the interstate commerce law to through business, and complain that competition with the Canadian Pacific Railroad is not possible.

Senator Hearst introduced a bill to amend the act relating to the production of fruitbrandy. The bill provides that any grape brandy removed in bond may, upon its arrival at a special bonded warehouse, be deposited there upon making such entries, fling bonds and gwing other securities as shall be prescribed by the Commissioner of Integnal Revenue. It shall be one of the conditions of the warehousing bond covering the spirits that the principal named in the bond shall pay the tax on the spirits as specified in the entry, to be paid before withdrawal. The bill also provides that all brandy made from grapes found elseall brandy made from grapes found elsewhere than in a distillery or in a bonded warehouse, and not having been removed according to law, shall be forfeited to the Government.

Geronimo's Band.
Washington, Jan. 21.—The President WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The President has sent to the Senate the report made by Gen. Crook and Lleut. Howard upon the condition of the Apache prisoners at Mt. Vernon Barracks, Alabama. The President recommends that provision be made for locating these Indians upon lands in Indian Territory, and says: "Some of the Indians have rendered good service to the Government in the pursuit and capture of the murderous band that followed Geronimo. It is a repreach that they should not in our treatment of them be distinguished from the cruel and bloody members of the tribe now confined with them."

The Question of Defenses. WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Irving M. Scott of the Union Iron Works of San Francisco gave some interesting facts today before the House Committee on Naval Affairs concerning the increase of facilities for building war vessels at that city. The largest battleships, he said, those of 10,000 or 12,000 tons could be built there. For the protection of inland ports Scott recommended that the single-turreted monitors be remodeled. If the turrets were removed and the vessels armed with guns of heavy calibre they would, he thought, give very efficient protection. WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.-Irving M. Scott

WASHINGTON, Jab. 21.—The Senate to-day confirmed the following: Receivers of Public Moneys, A. J. Wiley, Humboldt, Cal.; Otis Perrin, Stockton, Cal.; George P. Fisher of Delaware, First Auditor of the Treasury. Fisher's nomination has been hung up in the Committee on Finance for some time because of certain charges, but the commit-tee today unanimously decided that they afforded no reason why he should not be confirmed, and so reported to the Senate this afternoon, with the result noted.

Preserving the Forests. WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The President WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The President today sent to the Senate the memorial prepared by a committee of the American Association for the Advancement of Science relating to the preservation of forests upon the public domain. The President approves the sentiments expressed in the memorial, and recommends that legislation be provided to prevent the rapid and needless destruction of great areas of timber.

Davis. It was stated that the citizens of that place draped the Federal building in mourning in honor of Davis and placed the flag at h. If-mast. They then stuffed an old suit of clothes and labeled it "Secretary of War," and suspended the effigy from a rope stretched across the streat between the Federal building and the structure opposite.

It is learned, however, that the subject was not even mentioned at today's meeting, and, further, that it is not likely to receive any official consideration unless it is established, that Federal officeholders particlipated in the transaction,

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—A Toronto dis-patch today stated that Mr. Farrar, a Canafore the Republican members of the Senate Committee on Relations with Can-ada and had influenced them in opposition to the Commercial Union Bill in order to force annexation. Senator Hale said the story was sensational and absurd. The Re-publican members of the committee heard no one in secret session. Senator Dolph, another member of the committee, also de-nied the story.

Pension Legislation Asked. WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 .- A committee from the Grand Army was before the House Committee on Invalid Pensions today in the interest of pension legislation. They advo-cated the enactment of a disability pension bill and also the passage of a service pen-sion bill.

Government Officials Implicated in the Guthrie Townsite Scandal-Result of a Recent Investigation.

By Telegraph to The Times. KANSAS CITY, Jan. 21.—By the Associated Press.] Cornelius McBride, the special inspector who was sent to Oklahoma by Secretary Noble, today talked freely regarding his investigations. He said, when he first entered the land, before the opening proclamations took effect he was surprised to find that the anticipated troubles between various bands of settlers and boomers were unwarranted. He had not been there long pefore he discovered that it was not bloodshed but rascality that the department had to fear.

a section of land laid out for the townsite claims for every section of land which touched the section set apart for Guthrie, excepting one, which was held by a lawyer named Wolcott, a bother of Senator Wolcott

McBride says he recommended the removal from office of Register Dille, Receiver

Jones is the only man who has been removed up to the present time. McBride further said that before the opening Clayton townsite plat made by him (Clayton) was upon the subject, "Crimes Against Criminals," in which at the outset he demonstrated that punishment by torture and death have falled to abate crime. "Crimes were committed," said he, "to punish crimes and crimes were committed far more crimes that they have prevented far more crimes than they have prevented."

Col. Ingersoll also said: "We know that diseases of flesh and blood are transmitted from one generation to another. Diseases of the brain, deformities of the soul or mind are also transmitted. I am perfectly satisfied that there are millions more incapable of committing certain crimes, and it is true that there are millions more incapable of practicing certain virtues. We do not blame a man because he is not a sculptor, poet, painter or statesman. We say he has not the genius. Are we certain it does not require genius to be good?"

Coming down to the question of what can be done for the reformation of criminals Col. Ingersoll said: "He should be treated with kindness. Every right should be given him consistent with the safety of society. He should neither be degraded nor robbed. Why should they, after having been imprisoned for years be turned out without means of support? Would it not be far better to pay these men for their labor, lay aside their earnings, put this money at interest, so that when the convict is released he would have not merely money to pay his way back to the place from which he was sent, but enough to keep the wolf from the door of his heart."

Referring to the question, "What shall be done with hardened habitual criminals?" the speaker said: "Put 1000 hardened thieves on an island, compel them to produce what they eat and use, and I am almost certain a large majority of them would be opposed to theft. Such a community would be self-supporting. Keep the thieves absonant island, compel them to produce what they eat and use, and I am almost certain a large majority of them would be opposed to their. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—[By the Associated Press.] A report was telegraphed to the Merchants' Exchange at 7 o'clock this morning that the steamer Oceanic had been sighted six miles out at sea. Upon receipt of this information the tug Miller Griffith, which had been chartered by the representatives of the New Yerk World to take off Miss Nellie Bly who has almost completed her trip around the world, steamed out to the heads. The Oceanie entered the Golden Gate a little siter 8 o'clock, and a few minutes later Miss Bly was taken off on the tug, while her fellow-

The tug followed in the wake of the Oceanic as far as Goat Island and then turned off toward the Oakland wharf, where the young lady was landed about 9 o'clock. She boarded the special train which was in waiting for her and a few minutes later was speeding away on tae last stage of her journey. She will make the trip East via the Southern Pacific.

LATHROP, Jan. 21.—The Neille Bly special train arrived this morning at 11:10, two hours and five minutes from Oakland pier. The train stopped long enough for lunch. Fast time may not be made south owing to the soft condition of the track. The train departed at 11:33.

MODESTO, Jan. 21.—The special car containing Neille Bly passed through Modesto at noon today without stopping.

FREND, Jan. 21.—The train bearing Nellie Bly arrived at 2 p.m. A large crowd assembled at the depot. She said to a press representative, speaking of her trip around the world: "I was not a bit siek, not even sensick, and it was just storms, storms all the time on the ocean from first to last, and yet I enjoyed it ever so much. It added zest to things and broke the monotony of the otherwise duli toyage. As to traveling accommodations, on the continent the railroads were horrid, their best cars not being could to second-class American coaches. DENVER (Colo.), Jan. 21.—F. B. Semple, passenger agent of the Union Pacific, at midnight tonight received a telegram from General Passenger Agent Lomax at Omaha, saying that Neille Bly would arrive at Trinidad on Thursday morning, where she will take a special Union Pacific train for Council Bluffs via Denver. At the Bluffs she will take the Northwestern for Chicago. At the latter place she will be turned over to the Michigan Central for New York. This change, taking her via Denver instead of going east by the Santa Fé from Trinidad, will delay her about ten hours.

Mr. Jennings has had an experience in the blockade that he will not soon forget. For several days he was hemmed in by huge mountains of snow, with no prospect of getting out for many days. Finally, however, he determined to make an effort to get ting out for many days. Finally, however, it he determined to make an effort to get away. "Yesterday afternoon," said he to a Bee reporter, "I was given permission to ride on the rotary snowplow which was about to start to clear the road between Bine Cañon and Alta. She sailed along smoothly for a long distance, throwing the snow in every direction, when all at once there came a terrific crash and the entire machine was buried under an avalanche of snow. Lucking, however, no one was hurt. I was determined to reach Alta, if possible, and procured a pair of snow snoes on which to travel. Everybody advised me to remain as I knew nothing of the country and had never before seen a pair of snow shoes, and, of course, had no idea how to use them. I slid and tumbled and feli, but after a time I could travel very smoothly.

"After engaging a guide I struck out for Alta, and after a terrible experience in the biting cold air of the night, after narrowly escaping death from snowslides or a tumble-down precipies, I reached my destination. Here I found two engines which I had engaged to carry me to Sacramento, and after a swift run I arrived here on time."

When Col. Wright informed him that was even then speeding eastward on a special, Mr. Jennings's face became elongated, and he remarked: "Well, this is the hardest luck I've had yet!" His face brightened, though, when he was told that he could overtake her at Lathrop.

PASADENA DAILY EDITION. BRANCE OFFICE. No. 264 E. COLORADO ST.

EDITORIALS. THE edge of a big storm is resting on he southern country. Some delicate and diplomatic questions come up before the Council today.

TEN years from now Southern California, at the present rate of increase, will be the largest orange producer in the world. PASADENA's interests, especially in the direction of her public roads, have been grossly neglected. Pomona is ahead of us, not only in this, but cient ground for all sorts of prophecies in other matters. The reason of this is, because we are not represented in girls naturally wanted a large influx the Board of Supervisors—a mistake of young men, but as there is not much which must be rectified at the first about a man's name to indicate did not help them much. The men, who are never satisfied, had the nerve to wish for more girls, entirely forgetting apparently that the fair sex alting apparently that the fair sex alting apparently that the fair sex alting STRAWBERRIES are in the market this January day: fresh vegetables some to the door every morning. is the kind of a winter we have in Pasadena, and it is not a tropical one by the afternoon. The excursionists came in on the Southern Pacific, and were driven from Alhambra in coaches. Here is the complete list: any means. There is an eager and nipping air, not too eager nor too nipping, but just nipping enough to admit nipping air, not too eager nor too nipping, but just nipping enough to admit the strawberry and wild flower among the January productions.

The political field in Pasadena for the past year has been sadly mixed. The Republican vote when last tested was 1068, that of the Democrats 348, while the Prohibition vote was 130, giving a total of 1546. During the summer of 1889, the school-trustee question brought out a strong vote, Republicans, Democrats and Prohibitionists taking sides against each other indiscriminately, the total vote being $10, which may be considered almost the voting strength of the city today. How this will be divided in the coming election for City Council is an independent ticket was put in the Prohibition party would find aid from both the other parties, yet would, in all probability, be beaten. If an independent ticket was put in the field, with a platform prohibiting saloons, but allowing the city hotels the same privileges as the Raymond, which it is presumed would prevent Prohibitionists boycetting voters, carry the day by a sweeping majority. A Republican ticket with this plank in the platform would accomplish about the same result. The great school fight seems to be a skeleton in the closet, and liable to take a hand in local politics. It bobs up serenely when least expected, and appears to be as lively as seve, all of which is unpleasant. It is said that 600 persons thought Prof. Pinckney should have been Sungerintendent of Schools and Theretical Prohibitions and prohibiting should be a sungerintendent of Schools and Prohibition party when least expected, and appears to be as lively as seve, all of which is unpleasant. It is said that 600 persons thought Prof. Pinckney should have been Sungerintendent of Schools and Pinch and Pinc E. W. Wilmot. Redlands, Cal.; M. M. Wordell, Fall River, Mass.

The special train bearing the excursionists was made up of a combination car, a dining car and four vestibuled sleeping cars. Luther L. Holden and Henry C. Lyon of Boston were in charge.

While the informal hop was in progress in the music hall Monday evening, an equally jolly but smaller party were assembled upon invitation in Mr. Goodhue's room playing "speculation." Some famous deals were made during the evening and the excitement was at all times intense. Those who held the lucky card or the highest number of chips were given handsome prizes. A. Pasadena lady manipulated the stocks with rare skill and took nearly all the prizes home pleasant. It is said that 600 persons thought Prof. Pinckney should have been Superintendent of Schools, and they think so still. Surrounded by these issues the local politician sits and works at the slate. An Experimental Station. The Park Nursery Company, the largest of the kind in the San Gabriel, is out with its catalogue for 1890, and makes a remarkable showing. The company has a large tract at Linda Vista, where experiments are made with all the tropical and semi-tropical trees and plants. The result has been that a large number of beautiful trees and shrubs have been added to the list of those that will live in this climate. The Park Nursery organized the last of those that will live in this climate. RARE SPECIMENS.

Splendid St. Bernard Dogs Owned by Rev. Ottman.

The finest specimens of pure-bred St. Bernard pups ever seen in Pasadena are owned by Rev. G. A. Ottman. The male is 4½ months old. It was purchased by Rev. Ottman from the famous kennels at Melrose, Mass. The animal now weighs 55 pounds, and, barring disease and accidents, it will undoubtedly grow to be one of the largest dogs in the country.

Rienzi, the name his owner has chosen to give him, has all the points chosen to give him, has all the points of a pure-bred long-haired St. Bernard. His face is square at the muzzle, with a distinct stop above, which shows off the great height of the brow and occipital protuberance, the latter being especially marked. The shoulders are sloping and the chest wide. The legs are strong and straight, with large feet. Rienzi, moreover, can trace his are strong and straight, with large feet. Rienzi, mereover, can trace his ancestry back farther and with more pride than can some people. His father is Ben Lomond, one of the largest and most famous dogs in the country. His mother is Lakma, another good dog, coming in direct descent from the famous champlon, Bayard. For six generations back Rienzi's ancestors are traced, and a chart which Rev. Ottman has tells who they all are. Rienzi's color is orange, chart which Rev. Ottman has tells who they all are. Rienzi's color is orange, with a wide white collar, and he is already developing those kind and affectionate traits so characteristic of the breed.

The other dog is a female, 3 months gld, and considerably smaller than Rienzi. It was whelped at the Erminie kennels at Mt. Vernon, N. Y., from Stella, a dog imported direct from the Hospice. Lysander, a noted animal, is the dog's father. It, like Rienzi, bears the strong points of a purebred dog, but it is never likely to equal him in point of size.

Another valuable female St. Bernard has been shipped from the East to Rev. the entire lower floor and the halls, ballroom and parlors on the second floor were comfortably heated.

The Florence Enterprise says that Hon. J. M. W. Moore, who has just returned from Phænix, reports that the Southern Pacific Railroad Company has a corps of engineers in the field surveying a route for a railroad up the Gila and Salt River valleys, via Phænix, with a view of abandoning its present route. The proposed line will probably be extended via Florence. This line, as proposed, will pass through the most fertile part of Arizona.

Says the Cloverdale Réveillé: It has been reliably ascertained that out of 185 cases of successful swindling throughout the State by traveling sharpers in various ways, by which people of the rural districts were robbed, some to the extent of thousands of dollars, only nine or ten were subscribers or readers of a county name.

The report of a strike of a 10-barrel stream of oil near Santa Barbara is a reminder that California is one of the chief oil-producing States. The industry has not attracted much attention yet. California stands third in the list. Ventura, Santa Barbara and Los Angeles counties have several oil-bearing districts.—[Santa Cruz Sentinel.

A LATE LINE FROM HAYES.

The Corrective Properties of the Juices of California's Vegetable Alteratives Almost Sensational.

A lady formerly of 1221 Mission St., but now of 400 Hayes St., S. F., writes to the Edwin W. Joy Co. as follows: "Mrs. H. T. Beverly, of Se-attle, resided with me last winter. She had long stile, resided with me last winter. She had long been a sufferer from dyspepsia and waterbrash. Her stomach was so weak that for months at a time she lived principally upon milk and the white of eggs. Among other things she tried one of the mineral sarsaparillas only to find that it gave her pains in the head and weak sinking appells. Having taken Joy's Vogetable Sarsaparilla myself with great benefit in stomach trombles, I induced her to discard the potash preparation and try your Vogetable compound. It began reinvigorating her stomach and in a short time helped her astomishingly. It improved her appetite and strength to that extent, that just before she left, she was beginning to return to solld food. She authorized me to write you this statement accordingly." THEY WANT BREAD.

Patrons of a Bakery Left in the Several annoyed people visited the New England Bakery at No. 341 South Spring street yesterday to either get bread or their money back for bread-checks purchased by them. The bakery has been run for three or four years past by Messrs. Fisher & Gibson, and was shut down Saturday last under circumstances which look peculiar. Mr. Fisher has been the manager of the business, while his partner attended to the pakery. About ten days are he ranted the Mr. Fisher has been the manager of the business, while his partner attended to the bakery. About ten days ago he rented the restaurant part of the place to a man named McGarvin. He had a lease upon the entire place, which has some time yet to run, and Saturday last he sold the entire plant and lease to another person. The McGarvins are still running the restaurant, but the bakery is closed, and from all accounts there are numerous unpaid bills. Two brothers named McComb have been doing the driving for the bakery, and they claim that they have been let in by Mr. Fisher to the tune of between $500 and $500 for back wages. Quite a sumber of bread checks were sold before Saturday, and since then the people who purchased them have been coming around to have them redeemed, but Fisher has not been at the bakery, it being given out that he is sick. His partner, Gibson, claims that he know very little about the business, having left the management almost entirely in Fisher's hands, and Gibson yesterday went to work at Brown's bakery and restaurant on Main street. Fisher has asserted that the reason he sold out was because he could not get flour, having run behind in his means, owing to slow business. The people who rented the restaurant knew nothing about the sale of the lease until the whole trade had been consummated.

PEOPLE'S STORE.

OUR LOW PRICES PUZZLE THE PUBLIC.

Goods Bought for Spot Cash Can Always Be Sold Lower Than Goods Bought on Time.

PEOPLE'S STORE, LOS ANGELES, WEDNESDAY, Jan. 23, 1890. Los Angeles, Wednesday, Jan. 22, 1990.
Our low prices are a constant wonder, not only to the public at large, but to the trade as well. They often express surprise at the low praices we mark our wares, plainly intimating that the goods would stand a higher price. We know they would for it would be just as easy for us to ask a little more as a little less. There are several reasons for our marking goods so low, but one will answer. Our goods are all bought at the fountain-heads of each line, in case and bale lots, same as the largest wholesalers in the country buy. The price paid is stripped of all possible discounts, and cash paid for same immediately. They are marked at a certain average per cent. profit upon arrival here, and placed on sale by us in the same manner as we buy them, spot cash, all discounts figured off. That one principle, rigidly followed and lived up to, has enabled us to bring every one of the 25 different lines of goods handled by us within the reach of the most moderate purse.

Our Grand Gift Sale is still going on. Lots of pretty Chima and Glassware have been given

Our Grand Gift Sale is still going on. Lots of pretty China and Glassware have been given away already, and mnny new articles will be added to the booth for today. Nearly every purchaser got a nice present yesterday. Take a stroll through our Millinery Department, and see how low we have marked down our Trimmed Hats.
